Denise Bizet Joins Terrie O'Connor Realtors

After majoring in retailing and business in college, Denise Bizet worked privately as an antique dealer. She always had a love of sales and a knack for working with people, which led her to owning and operating a shop in Englewood for 13 years. This long time Maywood resident became very familiar with all of Bergen County while searching for antiques to purchase, often in the homes of clients wishing to downsize or relocate.

Since closing her shop, she's continued to work independently as a consultant and coach. Although her people skills led to an offered management position in the service business, Real Estate was always in the back of her mind. She continues to assist several associates in estate liquidation and is able to provide quality referrals, along with other aspects of the relocation process.

Denise has been able to transition her expertise in sales and her honest desire to help people to a career in Real Estate. Effective communication and a desire to ease client's stress are very important to her. Terrie O'Connor Realtors is a perfect match for Denise. She believes in treating each client with the personalized attention and outstanding service that the firm prides itself on.
