

River Edge Woman Leaves Home and Estate to Charity

The former River Edge home of Ruth Leiman was just listed with Paula Royak of Terrie O'Connor Realtors, who says all the proceeds from the home sale will be donated to charity. Ms. Leiman's will directs that her home be sold and the net proceeds be distributed to the Christian Appalachian Project, the Native American Rights Fund and various other charities.

Terrie O'Connor's sales associate, Paula Royak, has been listing area homes for 34 years but feels this listing is different "It's special knowing that this home sale will have a positive impact in several communities and help many who need it". Ms. Leiman had a good heart, says Royak, and in this economy, bequests like this are more important than ever for non-profit charities.