Zachary Lisella of Terrie O'Connor Realtors
Allendale Group Participates in the DECA
Regional Conference

On January 4th, 2012, Zachary Lisella, Sales Associate of Terrie O'Connor Realtors' Allendale Group, helped out at the DECA Regional Conference. DECA is a business and marketing club that Zach was very involved with throughout his high school career at Northern Highlands Regional High School. The most recent conference was held at Ramapo College of New Jersey, where Zach is currently enrolled and studying business. Along with some other classmates, he worked in the tabulation room, helping keep the event organized. Zach continues to stay involved in DECA club with the hope that the experience will help him further develop his background in business and relationships with clients.
